

Connecting to Care: Workforce Development Logic Model Draft (November 14, 2024)

Problem	Inputs/ Resources				Activities	Outputs	Outcomes (data source)
In order to fully implement Wraparound and the network of care 1) the voices and ideas of youth and family members need to be a central focus however many youth and family members need support and training to become advocates for their family and other families and 2) professionals, including school personnel, need to help create environments that support youth and need to increase their understanding of the central role youth and families play in decision-making about the services they receive.	Family & Youth Leadership & Voice FAVOR, Inc. Carelton Child Health and Development Institute Department of Children and Families Yale Consultation Center SAMHSA Certified family trainers Certified Wraparound Trainers				Family & Youth Workforce Development Continue to grow the FAVOR Learning & Leadership Academy to offer sustainable family leadership development, mentorship, and support Develop curriculum & training materials that integrate best practice models Train & certify youth & family members in the Family Peer Support certification Train & mentor youth, young adults & family/caregivers to be full participants in the Network of Care (including self-advocacy, being able to organize, and advocate) Develop a marketing plan to share information about the FLLA Provider & Stakeholder Workforce Development Train providers & other stakeholders in Network of Care & Wraparound concepts and principles Train providers & other stakeholders in implementation strategies for Network of Care development Train providers & other stakeholders (including educators, office staff, police & security staff and state agency staff & leadership) about behavioral/mental health prevention, identification, & treatment Train providers & other stakeholders in concepts of youth and family engagement & accepting youth & families as full partners in the decision-making process at all levels in the NOC School Staff Workforce Development School staff will receive training in community behavioral health supports School staff (e.g., educators, para’s, SRO, support staff) will receive training in behavioral health through EducateSMART	Family & Youth Engagement/Workforce Development #/type of training curriculums/manuals developed # of family/caregivers & youth involved in the FAVOR Learning & Leadership Academy by type of training # of youth, young adults & family/caregivers contacted to participate in FLLA Academy Provider & Stakeholder Workforce Development #/type of providers & stakeholders trained in wraparound #/type of providers & stakeholders trained in Network of Care concepts, principles, and implementation strategies #/type of providers trained in behavioral/mental health prevention, identification & treatment #/types of trainings offered per region per year School Staff Workforce Development #/% of school leaders and staff receiving training in Community BH supports #/% of school staff who receive EducateSMART training by module	Short-term Increased number of family members trained Increased number of youth trained Increased number of providers, stakeholders & school staff trained Intermediate Increased participant knowledge of training content Increase in family & youth participation in the FAVOR Learning & Leadership Academy (FLLA) Increased number of providers & other stakeholders trained in Wraparound and network of care principles Increased number of school staff trained in behavioral health Increased number of active Family & Youth Leaders/Champions in Connecticut Long-term Increased percentage of members at decision-making tables who are youth & family members Increased number of youth & family members as decision-makers in health-related governance Increased youth & family perception of acceptance at decision-making tables Increased youth & family perception that their voices are heard & respected
Objective	To provide training to youth, caregivers, and family members that is delivered in a supportive, judgment-free, and confidential space and will increase their knowledge about the NOC and skills in advocating for youth in CT. To provide training to professionals, including school personnel, and others who interact with youth to increase their skills in supporting those who have behavioral health needs and to become more aware of and accepting of youth and family involvement at decision-making tables.						